How to use this guide

This course enrolment guide has been developed by the Faculty of Arts and Sciences to assist students with unit selection and to facilitate online enrolment. It is also a valuable resource containing easily referenced material that no student should be without.

- Part One sets out the University Award Rules and structure of the course. The Course Structure and Unit Availability Tables provide students with information regarding the study periods and location (Coffs Harbour, Lismore, Tweed, Gold Coast) where each of the units can be undertaken. The Unit Availability Table indicates if the units are available by distance education. A short description about the available Majors (If applicable to your course) and units is also provided.
- Part Two provides helpful information in relation to important dates, useful websites and relevant administrative information including the contact details of specialist staff within the University who are available to assist with specific enquiries.

We encourage you to become familiar with the information in the guide and the resources available to you within the School and the University.

What to do next:

1. Print or download this guide onto your computer and retain it for reference throughout the duration of your degree/course.
2. Become familiar with the Award Rules and course structure requirements.
3. Choose the units you will study this year in each study period using the Course Structure and Unit Availability Tables.
4. Enrol in units for the whole year online through MyEnrolment at www.scu.edu.au/myenrolment
5. Register for your internal classes online through MyEnrolment at www.scu.edu.au/myenrolment once the Online Class Registration notification email from Student Services is sent to your SCU webmail account [not applicable to students studying by distance education].
6. If you require assistance with MyEnrolment visit the Student Enrolment and Support Services site at www.scu.edu.au/studentsservices or contact your School Student Liaison or Student Support Team.

Note:

As course structure changes may occur during any study period, it is important that all students retain a copy of the Course Enrolment Guide for the year in which they commenced study. If a student is unable to adhere to the structure in place when study commenced, they must consult with a School Student Liaison or Support Officer.

Course Enrolment Guides are revised each study period. Current guides can be downloaded from www.scu.edu.au/enrol

About the School

The School of Health & Human Sciences provides a comprehensive range of award programs in the field of health and human sciences, and aims to advance and disseminate knowledge through the conduct of scholarly research and the provision of quality professional development opportunities in the region. By choosing to study a Health & Human Science degree at Southern Cross University you will have the opportunity to be part of a growing industry, with options in nursing, psychology, behavioural science, natural and complementary medicine, exercise science and more.

The School works with professional associations to design and deliver courses and experiences that enable graduates to take up positions in the health and human sciences workforce. A strong focus of the School is to ensure that students undertake professional placements in the industry to enable them a practical understanding of their chosen field and the opportunity to work with professionals. As well as offering a learning environment that provides simulated experiences in specialty laboratories and advanced facilities, the courses offered by the School recognise the needs of students to study flexibly, with many courses and units designed to be available via external or online delivery.

The School has over 1800 students, taught by and supported by around 150 dedicated staff aiming to bring the highest quality learning experiences to our students.

Course and Enrolment Information

Course Overview

Graduate Diploma of Psychology

The aim of this degree is to provide an opportunity for students who have completed a University degree to undertake further studies in Psychology in order to complete a 3-year sequence accredited by the Australian Psychological Accreditation Council (APAC).

The Graduate Diploma of Psychology is available on Coffs Harbour and Lismore campuses and it is necessary for students to attend the campus, either on a full-time or part-time basis.

The Graduate Diploma of Psychology is a fee-paying course. Please contact the Department of Psychology for the latest information on the fees involved in this course.

Within each unit, even at the introductory level, there is a strong emphasis on demonstrating the links between theory, research and application. This link between basic and applied psychology is a central feature of the program. Other central features of the degree include:

1. the explicit use of topical issues reported in the media as a vehicle for the study of key concepts and methods in Psychology
2. integration of relevant Indigenous material into the curriculum
3. a focus on examples of application in rural and regional areas of Australia
4. a problem-solving approach to teaching in which students will often be asked to generate solutions to real-world problems using their psychological knowledge.

2010 Course Rules

The Award Rules for each course are published in the Student Handbook. Hardcopies of the Handbook are available for purchase at the Coop Bookshop in the Plaza. An online version of the Handbook is available from the Southern Cross University website at www.scu.edu.au/handbook

Specific Award Rules

See the University's Rules Relating to Awards, in conjunction with the Specific Award Rules listed below.

4.1 Qualification for Admission

Applicants for admission to candidature shall have completed:

- i. a degree of at least Bachelor's level awarded by an Australian University (or its equivalent from another country), and
- ii. an introductory psychology program, consisting of at least two Psychology units, accredited by the Australian Psychological society, or its equivalent.

4.2 Duration of the Course

Normally, unless the Board of the Division of Arts otherwise determines, a candidate shall complete the award in not more than two (2) years.

4.3 Requirements for an Award

To be eligible for the award of Graduate Diploma of Psychology, a candidate shall successfully complete not less than eight (8) units comprising all units listed in the Schedule of Units attached to these Rules.

Course Structure

This table maps out the unit progressions in the Graduate Diploma of Psychology to help you with your unit selection.

Full-time students normally complete four units each study period. The units you should enrol in each year/session can be found in the table below.

Part-time students normally complete two units each study period. It is up to the individual as to which two units to enrol in each session. Please be aware that some units may have pre-requisites that must be studied before others. Please refer to the Unit Availability Table for pre-requisite units.

Definitions

Internal is a lecture-based course of study at a physical location e.g. Coffs Harbour, Lismore, Singapore, etc. Such a course may be web enhanced e.g. MySCU.

External (EXT) is an externally delivered course of study with study guides and course materials delivered via the post or made available online. Also called distance education or study via correspondence. It is typically web enhanced.

Online (ONL) is a course of study delivered exclusively online. All material for the unit is delivered online via the web.

Pre requisite study package (“Pre”) means a study package (unit or course) which must have been completed with a grade of Pass or above before enrolling in another specified study package.

Co requisite study package (“Co”) means a study package (unit or course) in which a student must be concurrently enrolled (or have satisfactorily completed) prior to enrolment in another specified study package.

Anti requisite study package (“Anti”) means a study package (unit or course) that if satisfactorily completed will not allow enrolment in another specified study package, normally because they are equivalent or overlapping in content.

Internal is a lecture-based course of study at a physical location e.g. Coffs Harbour, Lismore, Singapore, etc. Such a course may be web enhanced e.g. MySCU.

External (EXT) is an externally delivered course of study with study guides and course materials delivered via the post. Also called distance education or study via correspondence. It is typically web enhanced.

Study Year indicated in the Unit Availability Table relates to full-time study.

Enrolment Restrictions are the enrolment conditions for the particular study package (unit or course) that if relevant are found directly under any requisites for the relevant study package in the Unit Availability Table.

Unit Descriptions

Core units (compulsory)

BHS30003 Development across the Lifespan

Provides an overview of human development from conception, through childhood, adolescence, adulthood and old age. The unit introduces students to the scientific study of physical, cognitive, and social development applying to human lifespan development. Biological, social and psychological factors which influence the course of human development are considered.

BHS20007 Learning and Memory

Covers learning and memory in an integrated fashion. Learning and memory are concerned with understanding the processes by which behaviour is acquired through experience and expressed in later performance. Topics will include basic principles of behaviour change, learning and addictive behaviours, information processing account of memory, the role of implicit memory and learning, and the effects of aging on learning and memory.

BHS20001 Psychological Assessment

Develops knowledge and skills in methods of observation, measurement and psychometric assessment, including the use of formal psychological tests. This unit has a central place in the curriculum because one of the distinctive features of psychology is its sophistication with respect to measurement.

BHS20006 Personality and Social Psychology

Examines central issues in social psychology and the study of personality such as attitude formation and the influence of attitudes upon behaviour, non-verbal behaviour, social cognition and affect, prosocial behaviour, and the conceptualisation and measurement of personality in psychology.

BHS20008 Quantitative Methods in Psychology

Equips students with a range of basic methodological and data-analytic techniques likely to be utilised in psychological research. The unit introduces students to the conceptual bases and practical use of hypothesis testing techniques for experiments examining differences between populations and one and two-group samples. More complex techniques (chi-squared) for categorical data are also examined. Students will learn to use the SPSS computer programmes for the analyses requiring the use of t-tests, factor analyses, and chi-squared techniques.

BHS30002 Abnormal Psychology

Explores the nature of causes of emotion and the broad psychological disorders, including mood disorders, anxiety disorders, schizophrenia, eating disorders, and substance-related disorders. The unit will focus on basic issues in the study of abnormal behaviour such as classification and diagnosis. The causes of disorders will be considered from an environmental and biochemical perspective. The unit will also involve an introduction to the evidence-based treatment of various psychological disorders.

BHS30001 Research Methods in Psychology

Equips students with a range of advanced methodological and data-analysis techniques likely to be utilised in psychological research at honours level. Introduces students to the conceptual basis and practical use of the General Linear Model. Students will learn to use the SPSS computer program for the analysis of complex data using ANOVA, MANOVA, regression, and other routines. The treatment of potential threats to interpretation (missing data, suppressor variable, etc.) will be stressed.

BHS30004 Physiological Psychology and Sensory Processes

Examines the biological bases of behaviour, sensory experience and emotion. The unit begins with an overview of the importance of evolutionary theory and genetics to the understanding of behaviour. The unit deals with the anatomy of the nervous system, including the conduction and transmission of neural impulses. The application of these principles to a variety of phenomena will be covered such as arousal, vision, audition and the senses of taste and smell. This knowledge can be applied to assessment and rehabilitation, the understanding of how food and wine is evaluated, substance use, sexual behaviour and sleep.

Other Important Information

Accreditation, APS membership and registration

A four-year undergraduate degree in Psychology is presently the basic academic requirement for registration as a psychologist in New South Wales. Registration as a psychologist in New South Wales currently requires an additional two years of supervision by a registered psychologist in the workplace or an approved postgraduate qualification (e.g. Master of Psychology).

Full membership of the Australian Psychological Accreditation Council (APAC) requires a combination of a four-year undergraduate degree and an approved post-graduate qualification – a total of six years of University study. The Graduate Diploma of Psychology, together with two required introductory psychology units, provides the equivalent of a 3-year sequence in psychology.

A fourth year of study can be pursued by seeking entry into a Post-Graduate Diploma of Psychology at Southern Cross University or selected other Universities (see APAC website).

It should be noted that membership of APAC and registration with the NSW Psychologist Registration Board are completely separate processes. It is a legal requirement to be registered with the Board in order to describe oneself publicly as a psychologist.

Southern Cross University has received conditional accreditation from the Australian Psychological Accreditation Council (APAC) for the Graduate Diploma of Psychology degree. A list of accredited courses and other useful information is available on the website of the Australian Psychological Accreditation Society (www.apac.psychology.org.au).

School Contacts

Student Support Team

The Student Support Team aims to provide you with a high level of friendly, efficient and professional service and can be used as the first point of contact for enquiries you may have regarding your course. If the Student Support Team does not have the answer to your question, they will be able to refer you to the relevant area within the University or to the appropriate staff member.

Staff in the Student Support Team can provide you with assistance during the course of your studies in relation to the following types of enquiries:

- enrolment advice
- course structure and planning
- unit selection
- assignment administration
- advanced standing
- special consideration
- general course administration
- support for Distance Education students.

Location: Student Support/Liaison Staff are located on each campus.

Unit Assessors

All Unit Assessors will be advised in early 2010

Part Two:

Administrative and General Information

This section of the guide is a summary of administrative and general information relative to students and their studies. Wherever possible you will be directed to sources of further information and assistance. A comprehensive list of useful websites is located at the end of this guide.

Online enrolment

To assist students to enrol online Students Services have developed an easy reference guide called 'Getting started at SCU'. This guide outlines the nine easy steps to online enrolment. Students can download a copy of 'Getting started at SCU' at www.scu.edu.au/enrol/index.php/3.

Fees

The cost of attending university will vary and much depends on your program of study. Expenses can generally be broken into three groups: study costs, living expenses and other expenses. This section focuses on study costs or fees and includes important information to remember when enrolling into units of study in a course.

At SCU a student is either a Commonwealth supported student or a fee-paying student, also known as a non-Commonwealth supported student.

Fee-paying students are required to pay full tuition fees for each unit of study.

The University offers very few Undergraduate fee-paying courses; the majority of SCU fee-paying courses are available for postgraduate study.

Commonwealth-supported students

A Commonwealth-supported place (formerly known as a HECS place), entitles all eligible students in an undergraduate degree (and some postgraduate degrees) to a Student Learning Entitlement (SLE), with access to seven years of equivalent full-time study. Every unit of study undertaken under Commonwealth support has a cost. The Commonwealth Government meets part of that cost and the student pays the other part. This student cost is called the Student Contribution Amount.

At SCU the Student Contribution varies and is determined by the units selected by the students, the discipline category or 'band' of the units studied and the year the student commenced their course of study or degree. To find out exactly which band(s) your unit(s) of study belong to visit the University's Fees Website (located at the end of this guide).

Before enrolling in units for the first time, new students must read the 'Information for Commonwealth supported students booklet' available from SCU Student Services or at www.goingtouni.gov.au

Students complete the request for Commonwealth Support Form (and HECS-Help) from SCU. This is known as an electronic 'Commonwealth Assistance Form' (eCAF), which is completed and submitted electronically via 'MyEnrolment'.

The deadline for finalising payment arrangements for each unit of study is the census date.

Commonwealth supported students can pay for all or part of their Student Contribution upfront or defer payment to the Australian Tax Office (ATO) and repay it later through the Australian tax system when their income is above the nominated minimum threshold.

If the Student Contribution is paid on or before the census date a 20% discount applies for payment of $500 or more.

Domestic fee paying students

A fee-paying student, also known as a non-Commonwealth supported student, is required to pay full tuition fees for each unit of study in a study period. Eligible fee paying students can either:

- Pay some or all of their tuition fees up front on or before two weeks prior to the start of the study period; and/or
- Apply for an Australian Government FEE-HELP loan for some or all of their tuition fees by submitting a 'Request for FEE-HELP assistance form' (eCAF). The Australian Government will pay the amount of the loan to SCU on the student's behalf. A loan fee of 20% applies for undergraduate courses of study. There is no loan fee to a FEE-HELP loan for, postgraduate study, enabling courses, units of study with Open Universities Australia and bridging study for overseas trained professionals.

The deadline for finalising payment arrangements via a FEE-Help loan is the census date.

To be eligible to receive a FEE-HELP loan the student must be an Australian citizen or holder of a Humanitarian visa. FEE-HELP is not available to New Zealand citizens or permanent residents.

Students, who wish to access a FEE-HELP loan, must read the 'FEE-HELP information booklet' available from Student Services or at www.goingtouni.gov.au. They must also complete and submit an eCAF via 'MyEnrolment' and provide their Tax File Number.

Payment of a FEE-HELP loan is deferred to the Australian Tax Office (ATO) and is repaid later through the Australian tax system when their income is above the nominated minimum threshold.

International on-shore and miscellaneous fee paying students

International onshore students and miscellaneous fee paying students are required to ensure that their fees are paid on or before two weeks prior to the start of the study period.

International tuition fee information, including information about unit withdrawal impacts, due dates for student fees and refund rules, is available from the International Office and Fees websites (located at the end of this guide).

To contact the International Office:

Phone: +61 2 6620 3876
Email: intoff@scu.edu.au

More information

For more information on University fees or Commonwealth supported places go to the University's Fee website and www.goingtouni.gov.au

To contact Student Services:

Phone: 1800 626 481
Email: enrol@scu.edu.au

Other related costs

There are a number of other administrative fees that students may be required to pay at some time during their University life. These may include such things as textbooks, field trips, student services and amenities fee, penalty charges (sanctions) and costs associated with graduation etc.

For further information see Administrative Charges in the Student Handbook.

Census dates

Each unit of study in a study period at SCU has a census date that is the day upon which a student's enrolment for unit(s) in the study period becomes fixed and final. After the census date a student cannot enrol or withdraw from units without significant financial and/or academic liability.

If using the HECS-HELP or FEE-HELP Government loan schemes, the debt for units in the study period is deferred on the census date.

Census dates may differ for different units within a study period. Therefore, it is important that students are aware of the census date for each enrolled unit for a particular study period.

To check the census date applicable to a unit within a study period, go to 'MyEnrolment' and select 'Current Enrolment' from the menu item called 'My Study Plans'. Each unit in which a student is enrolled will be displayed with the census date clearly identified.

Advanced standing

Southern Cross University Academic Policy allows for the granting of advanced standing, credit transfer and recognition of prior learning (RPL) as mechanisms for recognising the prior learning and professional experience and/or the prior formal education of students enrolling in SCU award courses.

There are two ways in which a student may be granted credit towards a qualification at SCU:

Recognition of prior learning (RPL) – a process that recognises a person's non formal learning; and

Credit transfer from prior formal studies – a process where prior formal studies is used to claim access to, or the award of credit in, a course of study at SCU.

A student may apply for advanced standing at any time from the date of their application. However, all applications for advanced standing must be made prior to the commencement of a student's last study period. All applications for advanced standing must be accompanied by supporting documentation, examples include:

- Statement of Attainment for a partially completed qualification
- Certification of a previous qualification or award
- Transcript displaying grades relevant to a completed qualification or award
- A detailed Course Outline and/or relevant Unit Statements for previously completed qualifications or awards

Where an application is submitted on the basis of non-formal learning:

- Cover letter stating why advanced standing should be granted
- Up to date Curriculum Vitae/Resume
- Duty Statements and Performance Reviews listing key performance and achievements
- Records of workplace training in a diary or professional development register
- Detailed third party reports/statement of service from current and previous employers or trainers (this is not a reference and should detail length of service, full or part time capacity and list primary responsibilities and duties)

- Confirmation of relevant unpaid or volunteer experience (list years of full time experience or equivalent part-time)
- Work samples e.g., creative portfolio or project evidence

HINT: if commencing/first year students intend to submit an application for Advanced Standing they should do so prior to the commencement of the study period as approved advanced standing may affect a student's study plan planned unit enrolment and course progression.

Students will be notified in writing of the decision regarding their advanced standing application.

An application form for Advanced Standing is available from the University's Document Downloads website (located at the end of this guide).

For further information please contact your School/College Student Liaison or Support Team.

Cross-institutional studies

It may be possible for SCU students to undertake a unit(s) of study at another university and have the unit(s) credited to their award (course, degree or program).

Students interested in applying for approval to study cross-institutionally at another institution should first discuss their intention with their school. The School may require the application be in writing and accompanied by the unit statement(s) for the unit(s) you wish to study.

Where the request is approved, the School will provide written approval, which will be required by the university that you wish to study at. It is the student's responsibility to organise enrolment at that university. As each university will have different requirements and deadlines, students will need to check these carefully.

On completion of cross-institutional study, the student will need to provide their School with their academic transcript, or a certified copy, attached to a completed 'Advanced Standing Application Form' to have the unit(s) credited towards their SCU degree. To avoid delays with graduation, please make sure that all applications for advanced standing are submitted as soon as possible after the completion of cross-institutional study.

Students studying at other universities may apply to study cross-institutionally at SCU. Application is made direct to SCU using the University's 'Direct Application Form'. Normal admission deadlines apply.

Note: Cross-institutional studies are not available for Psychology programs.

For more information about cross-institutional study please contact Student Services:

Phone:	1800 626 481
Email:	stuadmin@scu.edu.au

Variation to enrolment

A student may vary their original unit enrolment details through 'MyEnrolment'. Please note that deadlines exist for enrolment variation and course/unit withdrawals. These dates are set out in the Principal Dates section of the Student Handbook and can affect a student's academic record and financial liability.

Please Note: changing the mode of study, for example internal/on-campus to external study/distance education/university wide, and unit substitutions are enrolment variation requests and are subject to the same deadlines – refer to the section in this guide 'Withdrawing From a Course or Unit'.

Class timetabling

Information about class timetables is available from the University's Class and Exam Timetables website (listed at the end of this guide). This represents the most up-to-date timetable information for SCU on-campus students and does not apply to external studies.

Please continue to check timetables periodically as times may change.

Class registration

Students will receive an email from Student Services advising when class registration is open. Students can then register for classes through 'MyEnrolment' by clicking on 'Timetable/Class Registration' under the menu 'My Classes'. Students may also swap classes using 'MyEnrolment'.

Please note: some students do not register for classes, for example, external/university wide students.

It is advisable for students to review the class timetables for their enrolled units prior to class registration opening and to have alternative classes selected in case their preferred class is already full.

A student may be required to attend one or more activities to meet the requirements of a particular enrolled unit. Registration into a class for each activity is necessary (such as a lecture, tutorial, practical, workshop or lab session).

Where an activity is scheduled more than once, a student may have a choice of class attendance and will need to select their preferred class. HINT: the earlier a student registers for classes, the greater chance they have of gaining their first preference of class.

For activities where only one class exists a student may have already been registered.

For more information about class registration please visit www.scu.edu.au/services/student-services/index.php/dds/ and download the student support documentation: My Classes – Registering in Classes; and My Classes – Swapping Classes.

Staying in touch with SCU

Students should ensure that they keep their contact details up to date in 'MyEnrolment', including work, home and mobile telephone numbers and residential, postal and delivery addresses.

Students should also regularly access 'MySCU', (the University's on-line learning portal). Most lecturers make use of MySCU for announcements to all students regarding unit related matters, to answer individual or commonly asked questions and to offer assistance, tips or feedback with assignments. In MySCU students can also participate in discussion groups, upload assignments, access study materials and participate in on-line assessments.

The University encourages the use of electronic mail (e-mail) to enhance communications and the sharing of knowledge and ideas. University e-mail services are intended to allow greater efficiency and support teaching, learning, research and administration activities. The University student e-mail address is viewed and used as the University's primary form of written communication with students. Students should access their SCU webmail weekly (even during University vacation periods) as changes to enrolment details, all-student notices and important reminders relating to University studies are sent to student SCU email accounts. Forwarding of SCU student e-mail to a private e-mail address is permitted.

Forwarding instructions are detailed in MyEnrolment under 'Email Forwards' – click on the 'Webmail Forward' link.

For further information please refer to the IT&TS Email Policy, 2.2.1. Access and Availability – Student E-mail Accounts.

Withdrawing from a course or unit

A student may withdraw from their course or unit(s) through MyEnrolment.

After certain dates in the academic calendar have passed (census date, final date for withdrawal without failure), withdrawing from a unit can have a serious impact on a student's financial liability and/or academic record. It is the responsibility of a student to be aware of these dates and consequences before withdrawing from a course or unit.

Regulations relating to a course or unit withdrawal are set out in the Enrolment Rules, which are printed in the Rules section of the Student Handbook (see Rules 2.6–2.8). Students should be familiar with these rules.

If you are enrolled in a fee-paying course and you withdraw from your course or unit(s) after the start of the study period you may be liable for a partial fee. Refer to the University Refund Policy set out in the Rules Relating to Student Fees and Charges in the Student Handbook.

Unit withdrawal impacts for International students are detailed at www.scu.edu.au/students/fees/index.php/14/ International on-shore students should contact the International Office if they intend to withdraw from their course.

All other students who require further information or assistance should contact Student Services on:

Phone: 1800 626 481

Email: stuadmin@scu.edu.au

Leave of absence

To be eligible to take a leave of absence for up to 12 months a student must have remained enrolled in at least one unit of study past a census date. Please refer to Rules Relating to Awards in the Student Handbook (see Rule 2.7(a–f)).

An application for leave is submitted through MyEnrolment.

A leave of absence for a further 12 months may be taken with written approval from the Head of School/College.

Further information about enrolment issues

Further information or assistance regarding enrolment issues is available by consulting:

- the relevant course and unit entries in the Student Handbook
- the relevant Enrolment Rules in the Rules section of the Student Handbook
- the School/College's Student Liaison or Support Team
- a Student Services Enrolment Officer:

FirstYear@SCU – Support for first year students

Southern Cross University understands that the transition to University life and culture can be a challenging experience particularly for first time or first year students. Southern Cross University has developed a website to assist students successfully make the transition from their previous educational experience to learning within a higher education environment. The FirstYear@SCU website contains a wealth of information, resources and support services designed to enhance a student's experience during their first year at SCU. Students can access the First Year@SCU site at: www.scu.edu.au/firstyear

Student support services

Southern Cross University has a Student Health and Support Service (SHSS) that offers a range of services to encourage academic success and increase a student's enjoyment of study and university life. The SHSS provides students with personal assistance including medical, dental, counselling, disability, equity and pastoral care services.

Study resources

Distance education students

Distance education students (external, university wide) will be forwarded the relevant study materials for external units, including study guides and books of readings, either on CD or in hard copy. These will be forwarded to the 'courier' address listed in the student contact details. Please ensure that this address is kept up to date at all times. Study materials are also available on-line in MySCU.

If study materials are not received by the commencement of the study period, the student should immediately contact their School/College's External Studies Dispatch Officer by email or telephone.

Internal (on-campus) students

Internal (on-campus) students are required to access the Book of Readings for each unit and may also be required to obtain a copy of the unit Study Guide (where applicable). These documents can be accessed electronically from the eReserve website. Some material will not be available to view online due to copyright restrictions.

To access eReserve, visit ereserve.scu.edu.au

Study materials can be printed as required through RapidPrint at rapidprint.scu.edu.au. Your SCU username and password is required.

MySCU

'MySCU' is a student's personalised learning portal giving access to a unit 'Learning Site' for each enrolled unit.

It is important that students log into MySCU regularly as these learning sites will be a primary source of information throughout the study period. Through these sites students can access unit and assessment information, study materials and resources, including the Study Guide and Unit Information Guide. They also contain on-line assessment activities, Illuminate sessions, notice boards, on-line discussions, blogs and wikis. MySCU facilitates communication between other students and the Unit Assessor.

HINT: Commencing/first year students should check MySCU as soon as possible as it will assist their preparedness for university studies.

To access MySCU:

<http://study.scu.edu.au>

Username: John citizen

Password: D.O.B (ddmmyyyy)

(N.B. When you first log in you will be asked to change your password.) Remember your new one!

Links are provided to:

- MyEnrolment
- Timetables
- Webmail
- Library
- Academic Skills Development Unit

If a student is unable to gain access to a particular unit site they should check their enrolment status through MyEnrolment.

Online student centre

Most Schools/Colleges have a 'Student Centre' site (similar to a unit learning site) where School and course information, announcements, enrolment information, referencing guidelines, support materials, textbook lists, forms and coversheets can be accessed.

To find out if the School/College has a Student Centre, go to MySCU:

<http://study.scu.edu.au>

Enter student Username

Enter 'MySCU' Password

Scroll down to the heading 'Information Sites', click on the appropriate link

Where applicable, students should check this site on a regular basis.

University Library

The library provides a wide range of services, print and electronic resources to support students in their study and assessment tasks, including distance education students and students with special needs.

To discover what library services are available, online resources and the various ways to get help download the Library Guide to Website Services. Distance education students can also download the Distance Education Services Brochure (website: <http://www.scu.edu.au/library>).

Library services and resources include:

- Getting Help: librarian assistance, finding information, referencing, EndNote and Copyright.
- Online Resources: catalogue, databases, journals, electronic books, past examination papers, search tools, useful websites, eReserve, ePublications and Theses
- Library Services: borrowing, document supply and podcasts
- Subject Guides: subject guides and database guides.

Academic Skills Development Unit

The Academic Skills Development Unit provides educational support by developing students' critical thinking, academic language and learning skills as well as providing strategies for effective study and time management.

The Academic Skills Development Unit offers a free SCU service to support on-campus and distance education students. On-campus students can make an appointment to see one of the Academic Skills Development Unit staff and/or to attend workshops. Academic Skills Development Unit staff work with distance education students on an individual basis via the telephone, fax or email.

The Academic Skills Development Unit provides:

- Academic Skills CD: developed by and available from the Academic Skills Development Unit. This CD, titled 'What's Expected of Me at University?' helps students understand and develop the academic skills required to succeed at university.
- Topic specific workshops: effective reading, referencing, writing paragraphs and essays, maths and science. Workshops are also available via podcasts or Elluminate. The Academic Skills Development Unit Calendar is available at www.scu.edu.au/academicskills
- Individual consultations: analysing assignment questions, assignment writing, assignment review, preparing for exams, reading, note-taking and time management.

Specific learning assistance for International Students is also provided through the Academic Skills Development Unit at Southern Cross University. International students who need to consult with an Academic Skills adviser should contact Susan Fryer at Lismore and Tweed campuses academicskills-intlis@scu.edu.au or academicskills-inttgc@scu.edu.au, and Clare Heesom at Coffs Harbour academicskills-intcoffs@scu.edu.au. Students may self-refer or be referred by lecturers.

International students at SCBIT are supported by Rhonda Munro rmunro@academic.scbit.edu.au

International students at Coffs Harbour, Lismore and Tweed Heads are also encouraged to attend generic and discipline specific workshops advertised on the ASDU website and the International Office blackboards.

Services for distance education students

Distance education students (external, university-wide) can access all Southern Cross University services in-person at any one of the SCU campus locations. Distance education students can also access SCU information and services via the telephone, email, instant messaging, SCU Connect and MySCU.

The University has also established a Student Services freecall number for external students – 1800 111 890.

Information technology and technical support

Information Technology and Technical Support (IT&TS) provide technology, Internet connectivity and information systems services, training and support to students to support teaching, learning, research and administrative activities.

These services include:

- SCU Connect provides staff and students with access to a range of computing services including internet access, dial-up (modem) access, email, on-campus computing labs, website support, and online services, including MySCU, MyEnrolment and Webmail.
- IT Support: The helpdesk allows students to log a call for assistance as well as view open and archived calls.

The contact details for IT&TS are:

Freecall: 1800 111 890, 9am–5pm weekdays (the call will be directed to the relevant Helpdesk).

Early engagement and intervention support

Southern Cross University has a whole-of-university approach and Academic Policy dedicated to improving student retention and supporting students to successfully complete their studies.

Students should familiarise themselves with this policy, in particular Part 3, Student retention and standing. Students can access this policy via a policy link in MyEnrolment by selecting 'Grades' under 'MyGrades'.

Most Schools/Colleges undertake an early on-line orientation assessment or activity that is associated with at least one core unit during the first year. Students enrolled in this unit are required to participate in this on-line assessment as advised in the Unit Information Guide. If further information is required please contact your School/College.

Examinations

Final examinations are held at the end of each study period. Not all units require examinations so students should carefully check the assessment requirements of all the units in which they are enrolled.

Exams are held in many cities and towns throughout Australia and in some countries overseas. If a student is living within 120km of an established Exam Centre they are expected to attend that centre. Examinations can be arranged outside of Australia, however they attract a fee.

Distance education students (external, university wide) will receive a letter from the Examinations and Progression Unit, Student Services detailing the exam timetable, the exam location, the exam supervisor and any special instructions regarding the centre. Distance education students should ensure that they check their examination centre immediately. Changes to an examination centre are made in MyEnrolment. Select the 'Change External Exam Centre Details' link under 'My Details'. Changes less than four (4) weeks prior to the commencement of an examination period attract an additional administrative charge.

All students will receive two emails to their SCU email regarding the examination timetable. The first is to notify that the 'Draft Exam Timetable' is available. The second is to notify that the 'Final Exam Timetable' is available. Please read all information carefully and follow all instructions.

The 'Draft Exam Timetable' and the 'Final Exam Timetable' are published on the SCU website and in MyEnrolment. To view, select 'Exam Timetable' under 'My Exams'.

It is a student's responsibility to check their Final Exam Timetable, exam centre details and to complete all required examinations. Details will not be given out by telephone.

The University's rules governing Student Assessment and Examinations are set out in the Rules section of the Student Handbook.

For assistance please contact the Examinations and Progressions Unit:

Phone:	+61 2 6620 3431 or 1800 626 481
Email:	exams@scu.edu.au

Special consideration/special exam

The Student Assessment and Examination rules provide for students to be granted a special examination or special consideration in appropriate circumstances.

A student may apply for special consideration to vary the deadline for an assignment assessment task (extension). This does not apply to an end of unit examination.

Where a student completes an assessment task (examination or assignment) and they believe their preparation or performance was adversely affected by medical or other extenuating circumstances, the student may apply for special consideration regarding the marking of the assessment.

If a student is unable to sit for an examination due to medical or other exceptional circumstances they may apply for a special examination. Except in exceptional circumstances, a special examination will not be granted once a student sits for an examination. Misreading the exam timetable is not grounds for a special examination.

An application form for Special Consideration is available from the Student Centre, from your School/College and on the Student Services website. All applications for special consideration/special exam must be accompanied by supporting documentation and/or corroborative evidence as follows:

Health grounds

- A health certificate from a registered health practitioner that must include the date of consultation and a specific statement of effect of medical complaint and/or treatment on your ability to complete any relevant task

Compassionate circumstances

- Factual details of the circumstances or event and corroborative evidence that may support your claim e.g., health certificate, newspaper death notice.

State, National or International sporting or cultural events

- A statement signed by an authorised officer of the appropriate organisation which validates a conflict with the University's timetable.

Grades and academic standing

At the end of each study period upon the release of grades a student can check their grades for each unit, print a copy of their grades and identify their academic standing for that study period.

There are four categories of standing:

GPA 3.0 or above: The student will commence their studies in this category, and once they have obtained final grades in units will then obtain a GPA for that study period.

Seek Help: The student has a GPA greater than or equal to 2.50 and below 3.00 in their units for that study period.

Must Get Help: The student has a GPA below 2.50 in their units for that study period.

Excluded: The student has obtained a GPA below 2.50 in their units for two consecutive study periods.

Students can access their grades and academic standing in MyEnrolment by selecting 'My Grades'. Here they will also find a link to the relevant policy – Academic Policy, Part 3, Student retention and standing.
