Using your planner

Mapping your assessment and other commitments helps you identify and prepare for your busiest weeks and capitalise on your slower weeks.

- Mark important work, family or leisure commitments
- Mark all due dates for your assessment tasks on your wall planner.
- Identify key milestones. It may help to work backwards. For example: Analyse task < Brainstorm < Research < Plan < Write < Edit/Proofread < Submit
- Set and mark deadlines for each milestone on your wall planner.

Limited number of poster size planners available

This planner includes National, NSW and QLD public holidays

Wellness reminders

Taking care of your wellness (physical, mental, emotional and social) helps you to enjoy life, deal with challenges and achieve your academic potential at university.

'Wellness' is something you do, rather than something you have. These brief tips are reminders to plan not only for assessments, but also for your wellness:

Be active

aim for 30 min everyday

Talk

to someone you trust or a counsellor

Mindfulness

be present, breathe, meditate

Good sleep

wake and go to bed at the same time

Socialise

connect with friends, spend time with loved ones

Routine

provides structure and a sense of control

Me time

make time for relaxing and the things you love

Focus

one task at a time, switch off distracting devices

Kindness

kind deeds boost your own happiness

Nourish

your body with good food and plenty of water

Ask

recognise when you need help and seek it
